

Terry Bell, President and Principal Designer for CTG, has been actively doing lighting design for over 20 years, on projects Worldwide. Terry is a Professional Member of the IALD (www.iald.org), the defining authority on lighting design, has received multiple International Illumination Design Awards, been awarded the 2008 Sirius Lighting Design Award for Outstanding Creative Lighting Design, and most recently been the recipient of a 2010 Special Citation from the Illumination Engineering Society of North America for “the creative application of LED’s, resulting in an energy efficient artistic use of light”.

CTG provides interior and exterior lighting design services for Retail, Corporate, Hospitality and Entertainment. Services range from conceptual only, to full documentation through construction administration.

Additionally, Terry’s background in mechanical engineering combined with his creative talents allows him to collaborate much closer with the design team to create custom lighting fixtures for projects that require something unique or integral to the space.

Restaurant and food service design has been provided for unique, individual operations, to full new prototypes for Outback Steakhouse. Design consulting for Darden (Olive Garden), full design for multiple locations of the new Hard Rock cafes throughout the World, The China Pavilion at Epcot Center, and Food Court redevelopment for dozens of projects worldwide, has also been completed.
